

Leaving Feedback/ Reporting Problems

We welcome feedback from users of Archwilio to help improve our service and the content of our records.

The main way users can provide this is by leaving comments for relevant topic items on our blog page. Users can also view comments left by others and read our responses.

Click on the 'Your Comments' icon  from one of the Archwilio pages. This will take you to the blog of the related Trust. Here you will find three topics to comment on:

- Tell us what you know – do you have new information that we have not yet included in the HER?
- Comment on an archaeological record – do you have new information to add to an existing record, or have you spotted something that is incorrect?
- Let us know what you think about Archwilio – do you have any questions or concerns? Perhaps you want to get in touch to tell us about the features you like? Any problems you are experiencing should also be reported here.

Select Leave a Comment for your chosen topic.

Fill in your details including Name, Email and Your Response.

If you would like to be alerted to other comments at your email address, tick the relevant option.

Alternatively, you can contact us by other means. Our details are available on the Contact Us page.
